THAT, in particular, in claim 1, lines 3-6, it is now stated that there is "a video apparatus for visually observing the images of facial and hand and finger signing motions of a deaf person...", whereas the video apparatus may visually observe the images of facial and hand and finger signing motions of any person. The same defect appears in claim 12, lines 3-4 and claim 26, lines 3-5. This error arose when the claims were originally drafted and were due by a failure of Applicant and his then attorney to appreciate the full scope of the invention.

STATEMENT OF INOPERATIVENESS
OR INVALIDITY OF ORIGINAL PATENT
(37 C.F.R. § 1.175)

FURTHER THAT, the system claims in the patent are defective in that they are unduly narrow by virtue of the limitations in claim 1, lines 3-6 and in claim 26, lines 3-5 to the video apparatus. System claims 1 and 26 do not adequately address how spoken communications are processed for receipt by a hearing impaired person and how a hearing impaired person can respond to same. New claim 33 is intended to correct this defect. In particular, new claim 33 states that the translating means includes "means for transforming...spoken words into equivalent signing content and then into textual material" and that the outputting means outputs "said textual material for display on a device utilized by said hearing impaired person". With regard to how the hearing impaired person responds, new claim 33 states that the transforming means convert words and phrases from the hearing impaired person into a form which may be presented to a hearing person. Basis for new claim 33 can be found in that portion of the specification beginning in column 4, line 60 and ending in column 5, line 34 and in that portion in column 7, lines 10-17.

(37 C.F.R. § 1.175)

Claims 34-45 depend from claim 33 and are directed to further details of the system of claim 33. Support for these claims can be found in the aforementioned portions of the specification as well as in that portion from column 5, line 35 to column 6, line 25 of the patent.

The errors which claims 33-45 correct arose when the claims of the patent were originally drafted and prosecuted due to a failure of Applicant and his then attorney to appreciate the full scope of the invention.

The foregoing errors/defects were discovered by Attorney Barry L. Kelmachter after completing a review of the file history of U.S. Patent No. 5,982,853 and the cited references in May, 2000. The errors/defects were immediately brought to Applicant's attention by Attorney Kelmachter and preparation of the instant reissue application commenced.

The foregoing errors/defects arose without any deceptive intent on the part of Applicant.
